Meet the Speakers

Pamela Berstler, owner of landscape design firm, Flower to the People, Inc. and managing member of G3- The Green Gardens Group, LLC, is devoted to educating businesses, homeowners and design professionals in the latest eco-restorative landscape techniques.

John Greenlee, a skilled horticulturist and garden designer, is founder of Greenlee Nursery, the oldest specialty grass nursery on the west coast. He has authored The Encyclopedia of Ornamental Grasses and The American Meadow Garden. John has made meadows all around the world. His movement to reinvent America's turf-lawn culture has grabbed headlines in major media sources such as Garden Design, Sunset Magazine and Architectural Digest.

Bart O'Brien is Director of Special Projects at Rancho Santa Ana Botanic Garden. An authority on the California and northern Baja California flora, he is an accomplished collector, grower, photographer, lecturer, and author. Bart has co-authored two recent books: California Native Plants for the Garden, and the bilingual Care & Maintenance of Southern California Native Plant Gardens – Cuidado y mantenimiento de jardines de plantas nativas del sur de California.

Amy Stewart, New York Times award winning Garden Author lives in Eureka, California. She and her husband own an antiquarian bookstore called Eureka Books and tend a flock of unruly hens in their backyard. Amy has authored From the Ground Up: The Story of a First Garden, The Earth Moved: On the Remarkable Achievements of Earthworms, and the New York Times bestselling Flower Confidential: The Good, the Bad, and the Beautiful in the Business of Flowers. Her newest book is Wicked Plants: The Weed That Killed Lincoln's Mother & Other Botanical Atrocities
